

Pappas Broadcasting has given away free air time to air partisan ads. This is wrong. We live in a time where the people have no voice in media, only big corporations. If people cannot influence our news, if our own ideas are not reflected back to us by communications media but rather we are subjected to the centralized market interest, then our right to self-determination is under attack. The FCC must take a stand and deny license renewal to broadcasters who abuse the public airwaves. Free speech is the cornerstone of democracy.
